PERSONALITY

You are a sneaky, grumpy, liar. You like to get your own way and get upset when you do not. The only thing that tones your nature down is that you do like your family. This does not stop you from being spiteful to them , however.

You like eating, daydreaming about being important and pulling animals tails. All in all not nice but not evil either.

HISTORY

Peter is thirteen, Susan is twelve, you are eleven and Lucy is nine. You are staying at your uncle's house since you have been sent away from London because of the War. School is on holidays due to the bombing. It is very boring here. It always rains and there is nothing to do. Uncle Kirke is locked away in his study and the Housekeeper, Mrs Macready, is a real terror. You do not like her and she does not like you. The only other person in the house is a Cockney woman, you do not know why she is here but Professor Kirke gave her the run of the house and said to keep away from her.

Your sister Lucy told everyone that she has been to a strange world inside the wardrobe. You made fun of her and called her a liar. She got very upset about this. You are a bit sorry that she got hurt because you do like her deep down, but you like teasing her more. You know that she was telling the truth because you have also been to Narnia. It happened just as she said. You went through the back of the wardrobe. You came out near a lamp post in a woods and you got back into the wardrobe the same way. It was a wonderful world there, everything was covered in snow and it looked beautiful. You saw a Queen, dressed all in white, drive by on a sleigh pulled by reindeer, she did not see you because you hid. She was very beautiful.

You also pulled a beavers tail. You know you should not have done it but the tail was just too tempting. You like pulling animals tails. You were very surprised when the beaver spoke to you. He told you the land was called Narnia, the land of the talking animals. He said that magic worked here. This really excited you.
