PERSONALITY

You are totally unflappable and practical. You treat everyone as a grandchild. You were born a grandmother.

You are prepared for every eventuality and very competent. You are pleasant to everyone but quite prepared to say something is you have a mind. you can not stand rudeness.

You love your husband almost as much as you love Aslan. Your belief in his imminent arrival is strong and unshakeable.

HISTORY

You live with your husband in a neat, snug little home on top of a dam, in the Wild Woods, just near the burial mounds.

You have been waiting for the day when the Witch's power will be broken and Aslan will come again. That is why you were overjoyed when Mr Beaver told you that the faun, Mr Tumnis, had met a Daughter of Eve, and that he had met a Son of Adam. You know the legend which says that the Witch will lose her life when two sons of Adam and two daughters of Eve are crowned rulers of Narnia. Humans had not been in Narnia for centuries so here was your hope. You have sent Mr Beaver to look for the children and to help them. Mr Tumnis is a nice creature, but impractical on occasions, he will need assistance with humans. A new order is coming to Narnia.

It will be nice to have a Spring again and to be able to celebrate Christmas. Until now all you have had to celebrate is an occasional thaw, when the Witch wants to grow some food, or when Bacchus, or Silenus decides to create a temporary break in the weather.

There has been a disturbance in the burial mounds recently. The Witch's chamberlain has dug up a body. You do not know why. You have horrible visions of the body being used to create turkish delight. Turkish delight is magically created food that makes the person who eats it do anything to get some more. The Chamberlain was sneaking around the mounds and now there is an open grave, a new grave to.
